A friend in Houston, former Landscape Architect from Wisconsin, sent this copy of a page from TWT This Week in Texas their gay weekly news magazine. What I've read is that, if AIDS is diagnosed early before all T cells are gone, the person has a much better chance to beat it or at least have a long time of good health before some nasty comes along. My own case may be similar. I'm going just O.K. Not in the peak form of past years, but not falling apart at the seams either. The isoprenizone seems to have boosted what I have and keeps me well. See if you can get over to Mexico and get some or get in on a trial there somewhere. With a doctors prescription you can get it filled in Tijuana.

Ernest says below he is nearly taking out his half of the pie I baked. He wanted cherry, I wanted apple. So I made it $\frac{1}{2}$ & $\frac{1}{2}$ of each! Who else but me would do that? He is watching NASH. review. I'm taking a break from sticking address labels on convention mailings. Will stick on stoppops and return address labels and begin stuffing.

I just talked to Genny Meyers and he said he have visited you in November after we had left. He delivered some stuff to you from Howard. Genny said he has some contacts in publishing there in SF and will try to interest them in your books. So get to it pronto and get a rough outline and some sample chapters for them to look at when he gets there in July. Knowing you, you will do more than that. Must run now to stop at printer on the way to seeing Aunt Michébarig.
More later.

Love, Olyx
