

Marlow brings antiques to Sutherland

by Earl Calloway

Marlow has enjoyed a fabulous career as a dancer, particularly with Josephine Baker in France, Europe and other continents. Recently, she decided to utilize her love of antiques by opening a shop at the Sutherland Hotel Building, 914 E. 47th St.

She is known professionally as Marlow. However, she was born in Chicago in the area between 40th and 43rd streets and her given name is Monique Dickson. She attended John Farren Elementary School and graduated from DuSable High School. She is the sister of the famous drummer Jabbo Dickson.

While attending DuSable she was also influenced by Capt. Walter

Marlow (Monique Dickson)

Dyett, who helped to shape the careers of many musicians and other professional individuals. She impressed producers who often came to see the shows produced at DuSable.

She was one of the featured attractions with the Larry Steele Revue. After performing in Idlewild, Mich., Chicago, and other places across the Midwest, she relocated to New York City and performed on stage and with dance companies.
