

Dorchester man found murdered

A man found dead inside his Dorchester apartment building Friday night was murdered, police said yesterday. Rufus Thomas, 35, was found dead about 8 p.m. inside the [REDACTED] [REDACTED] [REDACTED] apartment complex at [REDACTED] [REDACTED] [REDACTED], police said. Police believe Thomas may have been the building manager at the apartment building, located near Dorchester Avenue in Fields Corner. Police said they have no suspects in the homicide, but are looking for Thomas's car, which was discovered missing shortly after his body was found. The car is described as a brown 1990 Cadillac Seville, bearing Massachusetts license plate number [REDACTED].