Dear L.G.:

As per your letter asking for information regarding the requirements for anatomically changing sexual characteristics in the transexual. Female to Male.

We can probably do this in two stages. The initial stage consists of the formation of a hollow tube abdominal pedicle graft with insertion of testicular implants and breast removal. The second stage consists of the release of the hollow tube abdominal pedicle graft, formation of glans, and pan hysterectomy with partial vaginectomy and possibly appendectomy.

The projected charges barring no complications are as follows: $4,000.00 first stage surgery fee and $3,400.00 hospital fee. Second stage will run $3,000.00 surgery fee and probably $3,400.00 hospital fee.

There is $150.00 assistant fee for the first procedure and $150.00 for the second procedure.

Both myself and the Mt. San Rafael Hospital require cash at the time the services are rendered.

Once we set a surgical date, we require $500.00 deposit to reserve the particular date. The $500.00 deposit is absolutely not refundable should you cancel the surgery date for any reason whatsoever.

We require that you have lived, worked and dressed in the male role for a period of at least one year. We must have a psychiatric evaluation plus we must have one additional single evaluation either by another psychiatrist or a psychologist. We'll need a recent photograph for our files. We also need to know your height and weight.

If you should desire just a bilateral mastectomy my fee will be $1,200.00 plus probably another $2,300.00 for hospitalization and probably another $125.00 to $150.00 for the assistant surgeon fee.

Sincerely yours,

Stanley H. Biber, M.D.
